The Endocrine System – Asira Suetrong

To create my video, I used a Wacom Intuos Pro to draw the frames and elements on Adobe Photoshop and edited the animation on Adobe Premiere Pro. I decided to study the endocrine system as it has always been of interest to me. This is so as for example, only computer-generated images and drawings of hormones are produced if 'hormone' is looked up. There were a multitude of issues during this process although the main problem was fixing my computer's lack of space and lagging programs. To fix this, I transferred a large portion of my work into a portable hard drive and cleared my programs' cache to solve the lagging. In addition, I received help from my school's IT team to ensure that my programs would run smoothly throughout the holidays, which was when I had planned to finish all of my drawings. Another issue, though minor, was when I had accidentally shut down my computer without saving Premiere Pro, the editing software that I was working on, which forced me to redo two hours' worth of editing. While it was irritating, the issue was minor and was fixed, disregarding the amount of time. Overall, I am satisfied with my final product and have achieved a clearer and more thorough understanding of how the body functions.
